

Current practice — substrate-engineered independence

Proposed — joint-observation architectural class

